

Together, let's shape the next phase of Quebec's rural development!

To the leaders, visionaries, project leaders, developers, to all those who believe in a better future for the territory that they live in and make their living every day, in their own way...

The Solidarité rurale du Québec team is currently doing a tour of rural Quebec. During the tour, we would like to hear from you about the big challenges and future paths for your community, and would also like to discuss the renewal of the National Policy on Rurality. This great policy, which has given your territory rural development officers and the Pacte rural program, expires in less than two years.

Therefore, it is important to reflect on the future that we need for our rural communities, as well as on the development tools that we have to achieve our goals. This means sticking together to present a united front with a strong, shared vision. For the rural voice has always been strong and must continue to be so in order to be heard.

This is why we want to meet with you. In the meantime, you can review the consultation document available at www.ruralite.qc.ca/Tournee.

Looking forward to meeting you!

The President of Solidarité rurale du Québec,

Claire Bolduc
